Five Little Poppies

Five little poppies were swaying in the breeze.
The first one was shaded by some trees.

November 11th is Remembrance Day!

Hear the five little poppies say, "November 11th is Remembrance Day!"

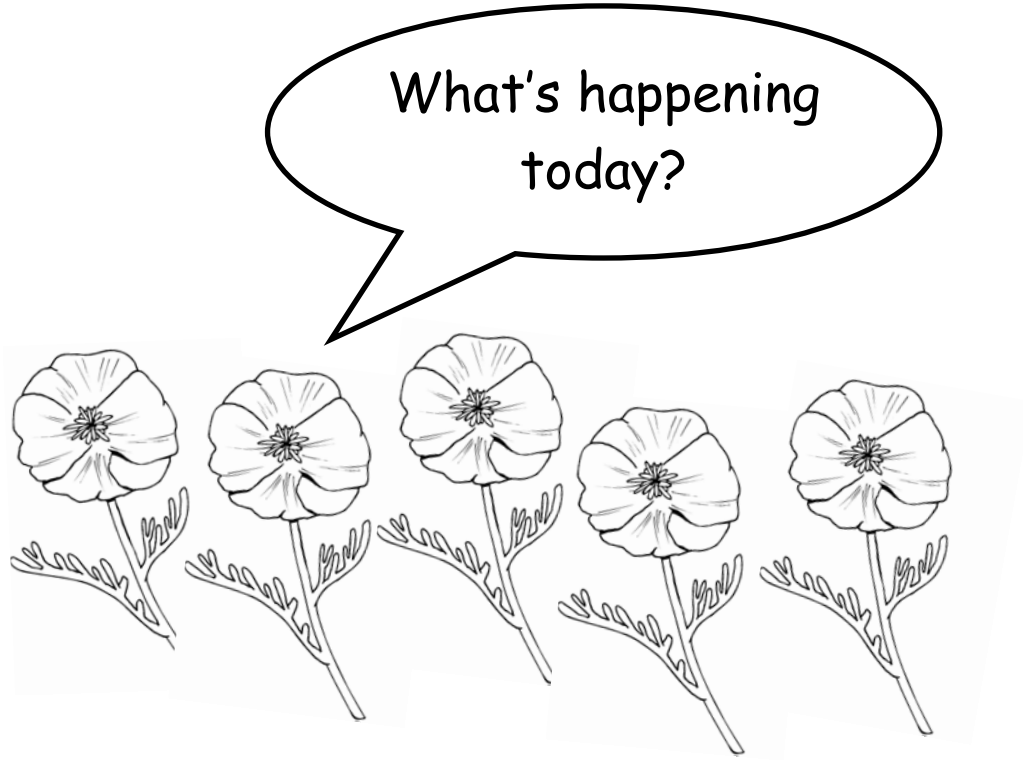
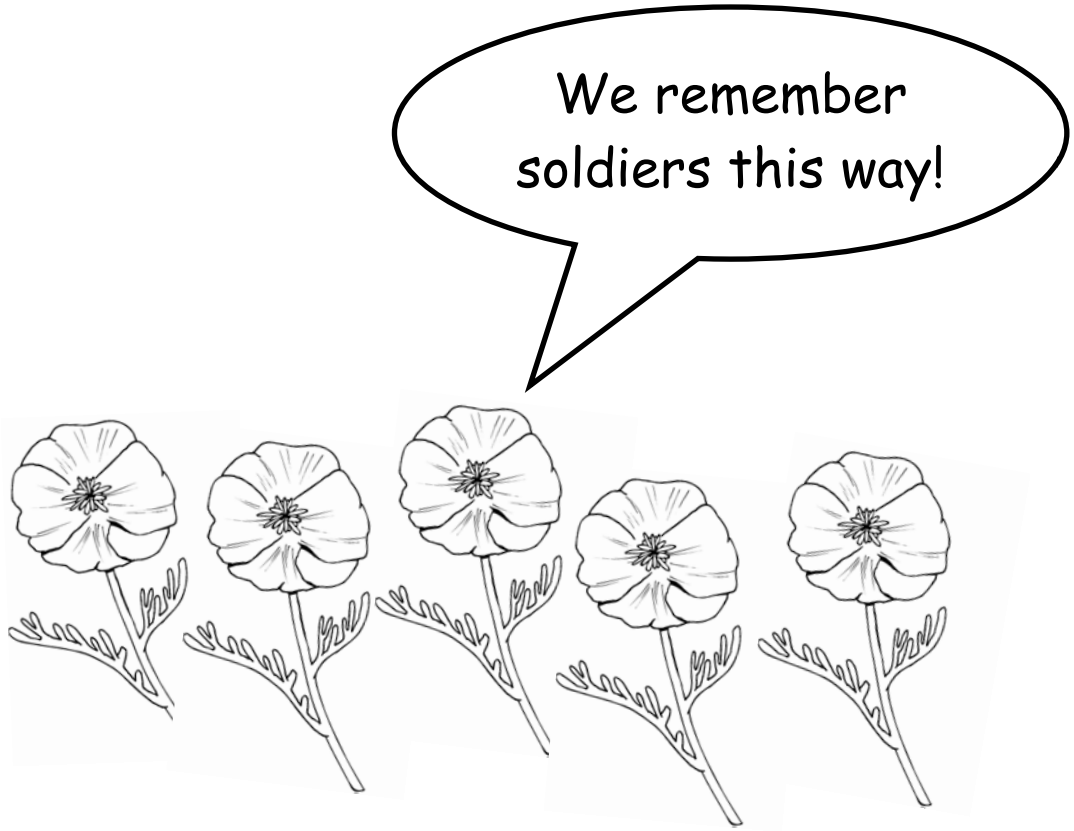
The fifth one said, “They were brave for me and you!”

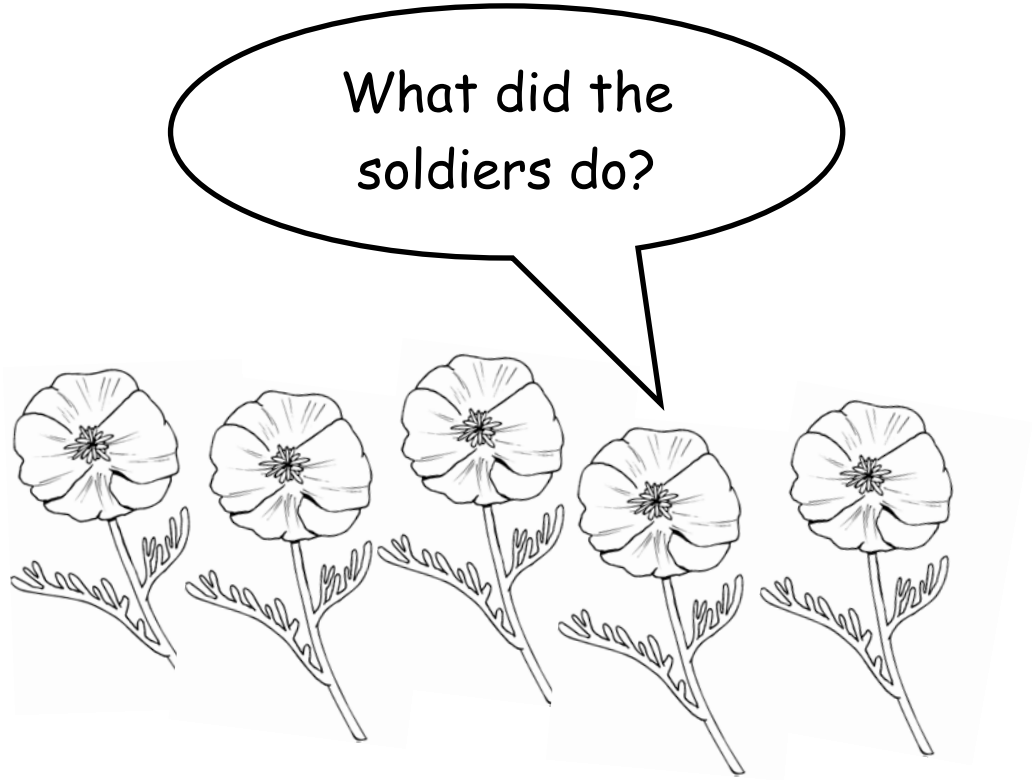


The second one said, “What's happening today?”



The third one said,

"We remember soldiers this way!"



The fourth one said,

"What did the soldiers do?"
