Lesson 43
Fun At The Park

Copyright 2003

Ann said, "I am going out to play.
I am going to the park.
Do you like to play at the park?"

"Yes, I do," said Sam.
"It is fun at the park.
I like to go with you."

Sam said, "Something is at my house. It is fun to play with."
"Is it a ball?" said Ann.
"No, it is not," said Sam.
Ann said, "Is it a computer?"
"No, it is not," said Sam. "It is a cat and the cat has kittens!"
"Let's go!" said Ann.
Ann and Sam run and run!

Ann said, "I like to go up.
It is a look-out!
I like to play up here.
It is fun!"

Sam said, "Do you see something?
Do you see my house?
Do you see the school?
Do you see the store?"

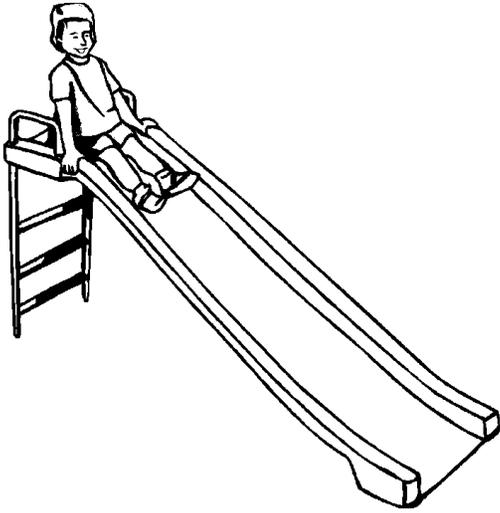

Ann said, "Yes, I see Sam's house.
I do not see the school,
and I do not see the store.
You can go up and see!"

"Here is the park," said Sam.
"What do you like to do?"

Ann said, "I like to play here.
I can go up and down,
up and down."

Sam said, "I am flying!
Up and down! Up and down!"

"I am going up here," said Ann.
"I go up, up, up.
And I can go down!
It is fun to go down!"

Sam said, "Yes! I like it!
I can go down with you.
It is fun!"

"You can go in," said Sam.
"You can play house.
I am here and you can go in."

Ann said, "Something is in here!
Sam said, "What is it?"
"It is little and blue," said Ann.
"It can fly."

"A bird!" said Sam.
"I am going in to see the blue bird."
